

The Library of Congress' Aspiring Leaders Internship Program

Summer 2023 Session:

The National Library Service (NLS) for the Blind and Print Disabled, supported by the National Library for the Blind Endowment, has launched a paid internship that offers individuals who are legally blind the opportunity to gain work experience and explore career options working in the areas of collections building, program delivery, and business oversight and management. Application details can be found at www.loc.gov/nls/about/internship-program.

The deadline for the summer 2023 session is November 1.

All interns will work remotely.

For more information, please contact:

Erica Vaughns

Head, Administrative Services

NLSInternships@loc.gov

Summer 2022 Session:

The National Library Service (NLS) for the Blind and Print Disabled, supported by the National Library for the Blind Endowment, sponsors a paid internship that offers legally blind individuals the opportunity to gain work experience and explore career options working in the areas of collections building, program delivery, and business oversight and management. Application details can be found at www.loc.gov/nls/about/internship-program.

The deadline for the summer 2022 session is March 1.

All interns will work remotely.

For more information, please contact:

Erica Vaughns

Head, Administrative Services

NLSInternships@loc.gov